HISTORY OF OUR DEPARTMENT

The Department of General Surgery had its humble beginning in 1953 under the auspices of Dr P. V. Venkat Rao, FRCS who worked as a Chief Medical Officer and a surgeon till his retirement in 1982. The department grew in its reputation and capacity over the years with the addition of a modern OT (1962), Post-operative and Intensive care unit (1971) and a cardiothoracic unit (1972). Dr H W Furtado who joined the department in 1975 and Dr Madhava Adiga in 1978 both consultant general surgeons and urologists played pivotal roles in the further progress and growth of our department. We began our Post Graduate Training program in 1990 under the leadership of erstwhile HOD Dr Kalyana Sundaram with the commencement of the DNB program. The First few students were Dr Harish Chandra, Dr Shankar Shetty, Dr Prashant Marla and Dr Clement D'Souza. The MS General Surgery course began in 1992. The department diversified under the able leadership of the successive HODs, Dr Menon, Dr B R Hegde, Dr S R Shetty, Dr H D Shenoy, Dr P S Aithala and Dr Erel Diaz and presently Dr Leo F Tauro. We have diversified since the golden days and have kept abreast with current international standards and offer world class surgical treatment. The transition from a single department to a true tertiary care centre six units of General Surgery and multiple subspecialties including Oncosurgery, Neurosurgery, Paediatric Surgery, Plastic Surgery, urology, Cardiothoracic surgery and Gastrosurgery has been a landmark achievement.
