HORIZON 2021

TECHNOLOGY MEETS FUTURE

13 NOVEMBER, 2021

We've evolved over time, yet the twinkle in our eyes remains as bright as ever as we enter into the silver lining. Computer programmers who could crack codes, lawyers who could craft contracts and MBAs who could crunch figures have dominated the last few decades. The key to competence, though, is switching hands. The future belongs to people with quite different minds, people who are creators and empathizers, pattern recognizers and meaning makers. Technology is the pen and paper of our time. It is a lens through which we view much of our surroundings. Recognizing the impact of technology on the Gen-Z of healthcare, the Department of Hospital Administration, Father Muller College of Allied Health Sciences is hosting a national conference, HORIZON 2021, with an aim of empowering future health care leaders to speak and understand the language of our time and respond to their needs with innovation and professionalism.

“TECHNOLOGY MEETS THE FUTURE”
